SELECT Reinstatement Special

Have you been off SELECT for a while? Check in with Archway to see how you can get back on SELECT for the least cost. Bentley is always updating their software and with SELECT you get all the updates and new releases at no extra charge. You also get concurrent licensing where one license can be used by many non-concurrent users, on-demand pre-recorded training at no cost, Bentley support, portfolio balancing and more.

Until the end of September only, you can get back on SELECT without paying back fees! Just pay for the year ahead, and you're good to go. But this great deal ends on September 30th, so be sure to call or email Archway for this reinstatement deal today!

Report: 3 Levels of ProjectWise

ProjectWise, Bentley's data collaboration software, now has 3 levels to best fit your needs. Let Archway help you figure out what works best for you. The cost to run any of the three levels is just the cost of the client software.

The three levels are: ProjectWise 365, ProjectWise Deployed, and ProjectWise in the Cloud.

ProjectWise 365 is a 100% cloud-based version of ProjectWise as a subscription based license. It is an instant-on software that is web-based. This is great for those who need access to other company's ProjectWise or those who need to access their company's ProjectWise from home.

ProjectWise Deployed is the ProjectWise Design Integration server deployed to your server hardware. This lives in your server system and the cost is that of the server hardware and maintenance in your facility, plus the cost of the software for your users. This allows for more advanced use of ProjectWise and works best for larger companies.

ProjectWise in the Cloud is the ProjectWise Design Integration Server in the cloud. This means the software and all the data is stored in the cloud maintained by Bentley. You have full rights and access to your data, but Bentley maintains the backend server portion. This is available for the cost of running the cloud space and the software. It also allows for more advanced use of ProjectWise, just like the deployed version, but you don't have to buy, store or maintain server hardware to get all the great advanced features of ProjectWise.

Archway is busy installing, training and consulting on ProjectWise and is ready to help answer any of your questions. We can help you figure out what the best option is for you and help you get up and running with it. Call us today!
