Report: Going Digital Award Winners

Back in person, the Going Digital Awards celebration was once again the event of the year for infrastructure professionals. Representing 12 different categories, finalists from all over the world traveled to London to present their projects in hope of winning a coveted title of Going Digital Award winner!

You can see all of the finalists presentations along with the winner's at Bentley's Year in Infrastructure site here.

Some of the outstanding projects include the IH35 Nex Central Section in San Antonio, TX by Ferrovial Construction and Alamo Construction, the winner's of this year's Bridges and Tunnels category. Using ProjectWise and the Bentley iTwin platform, they performed clash detection to provide the construction team with precise information for materials and time, saving time and money for an expansion of I-35.

Another noteworthy project was the Digital As-Built Proof of Concept from WSB in Elk River, MN, a finalist for the Enterprise Engineering category. WSB used ContextCapture, OpenBridge, OpenRoads, ProjectWise and SYNCHRO to support the roadway's lifecycle management and long-term maintenance by developing an as-built proof of concept before construction began. They were able to give a working proof of concept and keep all of that data for a smooth transition to modeling the project. This saves time, money and resources for their project.

So many amazing global projects using Bentley software to save time and money! Chat with Archway today about what products you need to make your business efficient as well! And don't forget to check out all of the finalist and winners presentations on Bentley's website.
